Thank You.

Our vision is of a world in which ordinary people have real power over decisions that affect their future.

Our mission: In a world where politicians are too influenced by large companies, media magnates and the President of the United States, OWOS seeks to return power to ordinary people.

OWOS is a progressive, mainstream advocacy group which helps concerned citizens to find their political voice. By using modern technology, we aim to build a community that can influence decision makers on such world-changing matters as war and peace, the future of our environment and defending and extending democracy.
